

Nurses on the Frontline of wound care: from Passchendaele to pressure ulcers

Friday 17th November 2017
Parkinson Building, the University of Leeds

Conference Programme

Twitter #woundhistsoc

10.30 Registration Tea/Coffee & Networking

11.15 Professor Andrea Nelson, Head of School of Healthcare, Deputy Head of Faculty of Medicine and Health, University of Leeds
Professor Suzanne Hinchliffe, CBE. Chief Nurse/ Deputy Chief Executive The Leeds Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust
Opening Remarks (Nathan Bodington Chamber)

11.30 Professor Christine Hallett, Chair of the UK Association for the History of Nursing
Nurses of Passchendaele: Clinical Expertise and Personal Sacrifice on the Front Lines of War

12.00 Lunch, exhibition viewing and object handling

13.00

Concurrent sessions

Venue:	B.08	Nathan Bodington Chamber
	Historical frontline Chair: Dr. Kate Vigurs	Contemporary clinical frontline Chair: Dr. Heather Iles-Smith
13.00	Professor Alison Fell (University of Leeds) Nursing the Enemy: Accounts from French, German and British nurses' memoirs and diaries	Professor Andrea Nelson (University of Leeds) Meeting the challenge of wound infection
13.30	Dr Claire Chatterton (Open University) , 'Rekindling the Desire to Live'? Nursing men following facial injury and surgery during the First World War	Dr. Una Adderley (University of Leeds) Leg Ulcers: How long has this been going on?

14.00

Break for comfort, exhibition viewing and object handling

Concurrent sessions

Venue:	Nathan Bodington Chamber	1.08
	Historical frontline Chair: Dr. Kate Vigurs	Contemporary clinical frontline Chair: Dr. Heather Iles-Smith
14.30	Dr Jessica Meyer (University of Leeds), 'And they say a woman could do our work!': Male medical care givers in First World War British hospitals'	Professor Jane Nixon (University of Leeds) Making a difference through pressure ulcer research
15.00	Dr Alexia Moncrieff (University of Leeds), 'The massage-plug method is best': Treating venereal disease in the Australian Imperial Force  A 'variety' non wound-care paper	Lt. Gary Kenward The lived experience of a military nurse in contemporary conflict

15.30

Public events - see separate programme

Afternoon Tea, Readings from WW1 diaries, Public panel discussion

Sponsored by:

